

I will change the world by,
by: Lola.J.Bray

I will change the world by

Being myself

Not being mean

One less bully

Is all some people need

I will change the world by

Being there

Maybe i'll stop the polluting air

Maybe I'll get a degree

And become the best doctor anybody

Maybe I'll be a movie star

And inspire people to follow their d

Maybe I'll go far someday

And let people know that things ma

But bad things never stay

I will change the world by

My words

Maybe a speech

Maybe a poem

Maybe words said by me will be dis

On a shiny silver plate

I will change the world by

Helping people find their way

Some people are just alone

Their just like strays

They need a home

They need some food

But most of all

They need support from you

I will change the world

By taking a stand

All anybody will ever need

Is a helping hand

Maybe I'll be on the news

Maybe I'll be on TV

And people will watch me

Take a stand for things I believe

Don't underestimate what's inside of

Don't get scared of something new

You should know by now

That thing's don't last

Both a good and bad thing

I will change the world

Being myself

Getting a degree

Being a good doctor

Not being mean

Being there

Stop the polluting air

Being a movie star

Telling people to follow their dream:

Going far

Saying a few words

Saying a speech

Helping people find their way

Even if it seems out of reach

Being on the news

For doing something new

Being on tv

And have a show just being r

Everybody gets scared

Everybody gets nervous

But I think it's your turn

To try something

You might question why

But don't worry because

You will change the world by