

Heart of Stone by Morgan Tate

Those people with hearts of stone.

People who shield

Their hearts and thoughts

From that which is new

Or makes them scared.

They don't think about others in the world.

That's what I would change,

I would use the chisel of knowledge

And break through that heart of stone.

Make their hearts bleed

For others in the world.

Their shields will come crashing down,

Those people with hearts of stone.
